ENGINEERS HERE REMEMBER DEAD WITH EXERCISES

Annual Memorial Service of Division No. 60 Held at Reynolds Hall.

CHATLEY MAKES ADDRESS

Not Single Member of Organization Has Passed Away During the Year—List of Dead.

Unusually interesting proved the annual memorial services of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, division No. 60, held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Reynolds hall, Thirtieth street and Fifth avenue. The local organization, which was formed in December, 1864, is one of the oldest in this section of the country, the charter being granted just a year after the origin of the order.

M. V. Johnston, president of the local brotherhood, presided. An excellent program was carried out. Following prayer by Rev. M. E. Chatley, Miss Elizabeth Dunn gave a recitation and Miss Una Kall a vocal number. Mrs. Krebs and Miss Hudson rendered a piano duet.

Roll of Dead.

The roll of the dead was called. Not a single member of the division has passed away during the past year. Those who died are: W. G. Brindley, H. H. Baker, J. Z. Colburn, P. C. Wilcox, A. Whitney, M. H. Bennett, H. Fehrmann. The oldest living charter member of Division No. 60 is Oliver Peasley, Blue Island, Ill., and C. H. Davis is the oldest initiated member of the division.

Memorial Address.

The annual memorial address was given by Rev. M. E. Chatley of the Christian church. Among other things he said:

"In accordance with a beautiful and time-honored custom you have met this afternoon to remember those of your numbers who have crossed the mystic river of death. Today all differences are forgotten, all distinctions lost sight of, in the sacred memories enshrined with your hearts.

"I feel that there is something sacred in such an occasion. With reverence and respect you have read the names of your dead, and have placed your flowers here, symbolic of your affection and your love. And flowers never find a sweeter use than when they shed their fragrance in such a cause and speak of memories that never, never die.

"You call your organization 'The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.' I confess myself agreeably surprised to learn of the strength and influence of your order.

"I congratulate you on a membership of 73,000 men, banded together under the motto 'Sobriety, Truth, Justice and Morality.'

"Well may you point with pride to the fact that during the few years of your history, your order has paid in benefits the princely sum of $30,000,000. The broad hand of charity has ever been open to a needy brother."

The speaker dwelt at some length on the thought of "brotherhood" and what is demanded in the various relations of life.

Then speaking of the hazardous nature of the occupation of the men before him, he continued: "Your work is full of danger. When you sit in the cab, your hand upon the throttle, many lives and much valuable property is in your keeping.

"Place of Trust.

"Your position is one of trust and responsibility. Many a brave engineer has gone down in a wreck rather than prove recreant to that trust. When he so dies, he dies a hero, and is worthy a hero's grave.

"With a thrill of admiration we read of the brave knights in the olden days of chivalry. But my praise this afternoon is for the knight in blue blouse and overalls.

"It is the glory of our common humanity, that such heroic qualities often lie, unrecognized in the humblest lives. And when brought to light by some emergency, they glorify not only the man who does them, but all men, who so labor with fidelity that may become heroic.

"But while your work is hazardous, you have the 'Electric Road Signal' for your safety. I do not need to tell you that it is a dangerous thing to ignore its friendly warning and 'run the block.'

"So in all the practical duties of life, as a man among men, as a citizen of the state, as a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, you have such a guide. It is conscience—

Chief Speaker At Memorial Service

the monitor who warns you of danger and tells you when the way is clear.

"I am sorry for the man who gauges manliness by the ease with which he stifles the voice of conscience, or who counts brave the man who recklessly transfers conscience under his feet.

"The engineer of a fast train on the Pennsylvania railroad discovered a man on the top of a signal pole at an important junction where three roads crossed. With his fist he was destroying the signal lamps!

"The fellow was insane; and was doing it simply to enjoy the excitement he would experience in witnessing a wreck. In his madness he was destroying the signal light. Like that, is the man who trifles with conscience—God's signal light in his soul.

"Safety demands that the signal light be kept clear and in perfect condition.

Keep Conscience Clear.

"So keep conscience clear. Keep it sensitive to the right. For the strongest character will be wrecked without a conscience that beats in unison with the deep throbbing of the heart of God.

"Someone reminds us that while the locomotive is one of the greatest servants of mankind it also requires great care. All night long in the roundhouse, a man has been rubbing down the great iron horse, until every rod and cylinder shines like a mirror.

"When the engineer comes, he examines the big steam horse carefully to see that everything is all right. All bearings are oiled, and when everything is ready the engine is run out and hitched to the train. Then for fear something might have been overlooked, an expert mechanic comes along and strikes a sharp blow on every wheel, to make sure that wheel and axle are sound.

"This is only a suggestion of how carefully we ought to keep body, mind and soul. Thus shall we avoid wrecking our lives; and having reached the end of life's division in safety turn in our report, and receive the commendation of the General Superintendent.

So may it be with us, one and all."

Miss Beck gave a solo and Miss Marie Williams, a reading, after which the song, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," was sung as the closing feature of the service.

Representatives of the industrial workers of the world have been out in the wheat fields of the middle west urging the wheat harvesters not to work unless they were promised $2.50 a day. The expense of feeding the men before the harvest begins is borne by the country, but this little gratuity seems not to count with the agitators.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because it is a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

NOTED LABOR MAN MAKES APPEAL TO LETTER CARRIERS

J. H. Strief, Sioux City, Urges Affiliation With National Union Organization.

TAKE REFERENDUM VOTE

Points Out Advantages to Be Gained in Being Associated With Powerful Federation.

That the letter carriers of the United States must affiliate with the American Federation of Labor if they expect to secure favorable legislation, was pointed out in a strong appeal which was made to tri-city members of the National Letter Carriers' association by J. H. Strief, Sioux City, president of the Iowa Federation of Labor, at a mass meeting held Saturday evening at 8:30 at the postoffice building.

Otto Behnke, president of the Davenport Letter Carriers' association, presided and introduced Mr. Strief. The speaker commented on the fact that there is now being taken a referendum vote on the question of affiliation with the labor federation and that the result will be not known until July 31. The outcome is being awaited with unusual interest.

Mr. Strief enumerated the many advantages which would be gained through association with the labor movement. He told of the powerful legislative committees and the work which they are doing in Washington, the state capitals and in some of the larger cities. He referred to the natural strength of numbers and made the point that the letter carriers could not hope to better their condition, unless they become a part of the great labor propaganda. He explained in detail the relation of the various unions to the central organization and declared the impression erroneous that the American Federation of Labor could call a strike.

Labor Cause Grows.

"This is a matter which rests entirely with each separate body," he declared. "Printers, postoffice clerks and machinists in government employ are now affiliated with the labor organization and I hope the time will soon come when the mail carriers will follow their lead. The labor cause is growing. For the first time in history there is a union man in the president's cabinet. William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, carries a union card and for eight years was international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America."
